

Sources for Native Plants

The following information is provided as a guide to assist you in finding businesses that sell native plants or seeds. It is not all inclusive nor is it an endorsement or recommendation of the vendors; however Mt. Cuba Center has satisfactorily purchased plants from many of the nurseries listed. Also, please note that some of the vendors sell non-native as well as native plants.

For the most up-to-date information on dates and times of local plant sales, nursery hours and visitation policies, plant descriptions and availability, etc., please click on the website address for each entry.

To the best of my knowledge, these nurseries do not collect from the wild and support conservation through propagation. I recommend that you contact the nurseries prior to purchase if you have any specific questions or concerns.
